Breaking news!
Last night, another alien was seen attacking a woman, but a hero intercepted the attack and saved her.

As the entire world is shaking with fear at the increase in alien appearances,

The World Government has launched a project with the International Hero Agency, IHA, and sanctioned all hero activities.

The spotlight is now on the Heroes as the world watches to see how they handle the situation at hand...

The Era of Heroes!!
I believe this is the best way to describe this era.
A recent survey has revealed that the most desired career path of elementary school students is that of a Hero.
I look forward to seeing what kind of Heroes will make an appearance in the forseeable future
